SUMMARY

Product Designer and Imperial College London Master's student focused on content, accessibility, and interface clarity. Experience in cross-border ecommerce (U.S. and China), fintech, and culture. End-to-end collaboration with design, product, and engineering to deliver consistent, measurable flows.

Multilingual: Spanish, English, and Portuguese. Driven by the rapidly evolving tech landscape, possesses a keen proficiency in utilizing emerging AI tools for visualization, prototyping, and concept acceleration to deliver efficient and innovative design solutions. Highly adaptable leader skilled in customer-facing operations, clear communication, and delivering engaging visual and narrative experiences.

So, basically…

I use words, flows, and a curiosity for human behaviour to design experiences that make people's lives a little bit easier.
